IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—The undersigned, U. S. Patent Office, and his assistants, superior to those elsewhere, has made arrangements prepared and conditions (instead of $1000) will be remitted to obtain a patent, and

This Agency is not content with the land, but through it is securing patents, of which it has a large number, and its ability of inventions, unsurpassable, and its measurably superior to them elsewhere. The Agency has proved that none is more successful in THE PATENT OFFICE and as SUCCESS IS THE ADOTANVALE AND that he has abundant

The immense practice of twenty years past, has created a vast collection of specimens relative to patents, a comprehensive library of legal and full accounts of patents in all States and Europe, render it, to offer superior facilities...

...and Drawings" necessary for the protection of the patent in this and foreign countries and advice rendered on the merits of the invention respecting its patentability in foreign countries. All necessary expenses to procure a patent, and all expenses incurred here, are here saved in advance. Copies of the claims of the patent are sent free of charge. Assignments of the patent are secured in Great Britain and in all foreign countries, through the aid of the Patent Office.

During the time I occupied the position of Chief of Patents, H. H. EDDY, Esq., was in the Patent Office, and there were few, if any, persons who had so much business. There were none who conducted their business so promptly and successfully. I regard Mr. EDDY as a most valuable Patent Agent, and have no hesitation in recommending him to all who cannot afford to neglect their patent rights.

[From the press of August 17, 1885].—During the absence of Commissioner of Patents, has been extensively engaged in business with the Office, and acquainted with the law, a
